

UMass Graduate Student Harrassment, Abuse and Discrimination Reporting and Support Resources

Don't forget: in an emergency, always dial 911 first!

For more information about these resources, you can always contact:

- CS Male Allies {kwinner, lucasch, kkeith, blodgett}@cs.umass.edu
- Gradreps gradrep@cs.umass.edu

Please also note that any GEO-eligible student, particularly one in a position of authority (including the above) likely qualifies as a mandatory reporter, and while they can give generic advice about your reporting options or on how to receive confidential advice, they may be required to report the incident themselves if you ask them for advice on a specific incident. For more information, see <http://www.umass.edu/titleix/related-federal-laws-and-reporting-mandates>.

Reporting resources

- Center for Women and Community[†] --- <https://www.umass.edu/cwc/>
The Center for Women and Community (CWC) is a free resource for UMass Amherst, the Five Colleges community and area residents.
- Ombuds Office --- <https://www.umass.edu/ombuds/>
The Ombuds Office is a unique place where all current UMass Amherst students, faculty and staff can talk "off the record" about any campus concern, issue or conflict. The Ombuds staff works with visitors in a variety of ways to help them understand their options and resolve their concerns.
- Office of Equal Opportunity and Diversity --- eod@admin.umass.edu
The EOD office is responsible for UMass' Title IX policies and enforcement and also have a number of good online resources available at <http://www.umass.edu/titleix/>.
- Student Legal Services Office --- <https://www.umass.edu/slso/>
- UMass Police Department[†] --- <https://www.umass.edu/umpd/>
UMass PD also provides anonymous tip lines at <http://www.umass.edu/umpd/anonymous-witness-form> and <http://www.umass.edu/umpd/anonymous-tip-line>.
- GEO Resources --- <https://www.geouaw.org/>
GEO and the stewards can help, particularly if you fear retribution from an advisor or faculty in response to your report. See the section on Union/Steward Representation and the Weingarten Declaration in the GEO Stewards Handbook or talk to your GEO stewards.
